SENSATIONAL ARE ACCUSATIONS OF COMMISSIONER

Claims Test Sheets Are Made to Give Pure Scores to Cows that Are Infected with Disease

PUT MATTER BEFORE GOVERNOR

Going to Madison to Lay Results of Investigation Before Livestock Sanitary Board Also

BABIES ARE THE MOST AFFECTED

Often Die as Result of Drinking Impure Milk; Adults Immune to Bovine Tuberculosis

Dr. J. M. Furstman, city health commissioner, at a special meeting of the council committee on health last night charged widespread frauds in the state cattle tests alleging that by falsification of test reports cows infected with tuberculosis have been given pure scores.

The commissioner was authorized by the committee and Mayor Ori J. Sorensen to leave for Madison, there to lay his charges and the results of his investigations before Governor Francis E. McGovern and the state livestock sanitary board.

As a result of the fraudulent reports, he claims, milk from tubercular cattle is being sold in La Crosse and elsewhere with dire results to infants. Babies are the sufferers, he says, the adult being immune to bovine tuberculosis.

Recites Many Cases

Dr. Furstman last night recited to the health committee numerous instances of alleged false reports, the most frequent offense being that of recording the same temperature for a series of tests on one cow. Dr. Furstman read to the committee letters from the livestock sanitary board admitting that these scores looked queer.

Ten per cent of the milk sold in the city of La Crosse, he told the committee, is from tubercular cows, and he explained that babies and small children are the ones who suffer, the adult being immune to bovine tuberculosis.

Dr. Furstman this morning was reciting regarding just what his suspicions are in connection with the alleged fraudulent reports. He refused to say whether or not he believed testers were being bribed to pass cattle.

Tubercular Milk

"There is no doubt in my mind but that a large number of the tests have been fraudulent," he said. "I think I know who is to blame and I am going to the bottom of the affair."

"There is no question but that we have been getting milk in the city of La Crosse from tubercular cows simply because the alleged tests showed them to be alright."

"I am going to put the entire matter before the livestock sanitary board and before the governor of the state, if necessary, to get results."

Need Stronger Laws

More stringent legislation with penalties for testers who make false reports is one of the remedies suggested by the health commissioner. Local ordinances will be strengthened to care for the case, it is planned, and Chairman C. A. Worth of the health committee was last night deputized to confer with City Attorney J. E. Higbee in an effort to frame local laws covering the question.

Ask for Expert

Mr. Furstman said that he will ask the livestock board to send an expert here to test cattle that have been reported in good condition.

QUARANTINED—ASKS DAMAGES

RACINE, Wis., May 6.—Frank Kilepera has made formal demand on the city council for damages sustained because his saloon was ordered closed by the board of health when this building was quarantined on account of a case of smallpox in the apartments on the second floor.

START 2,500 MILE RUN

PUEBLO, Col., May 6.—Ten automobiles, with forty passengers, left Pueblo early today on the Colorado-Gulf 2,500 mile durability run. Six of the cars were from Colorado Springs, four from Pueblo and another is expected to join the party at Trinidad.

MEXICAN GIRLS SMUGGLE BULLETS

Discovered that Senoritas Crossing from El Paso to Juarez Were Loaded with Ammunition

ENGAGE FEDERALS AT SALTILLO

Villa's Troops Start on the Campaign for the Towns Guarding Approach to Mexico City

BY N. C. PARKE
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
EL PASO, Texas, May 6.—That pretty señoritas who smiled sweetly at Uncle Sam's custom officers and soldiers at the El Paso end of the international bridge were smuggling cartridges by the wholesale across the border to constitutionalist troops in Juarez was the discovery made here today.

Jingled With Cartridges

Infantrymen, off duty down town, heard a jingling noise when they saw a Mexican girl board a street car for Juarez, and a stream of cartridges escaped from a tear in her blouse. Collector of Customs Cole today stationed women inspectors at the international bridge.

General Manuel Chao, military governor of Chihuahua state, has been deposed by direct orders of General Francisco Villa, according to American refugees. They said Villa caused Chao's arrest Sunday and named Gen. Trinidad Rodriguez, one of his own staff officers, as governor. Gen. Carranza secured the release of Chao. Villa had complained Chao was conspiring against him.

Engage Saltillo Posts

TORREON, Coahuila, May 6.—The Mexican constitutionalist army under Gen. Pablo Gonzales, has already engaged the federal outposts at Saltillo, according to messages brought to Gen. Villa by native runners early today. Villa has made preparations to go to Saltillo within a few hours. No word had been received early today from San Luis Potosi, to the south, where Gen. Maclovio Ferraz and Aguirre Benavides were ordered to begin operations last night.

Defeat Federals Decisively

NOGALES, Ariz., May 6.—Details of a decisive constitutionalist victory over the Mexican federals at Acaponeta were received today at the constitutionalist junta in Nogales Sonora. General Obregon of the Carranza forces, wired that his troops had dispersed a strong federal command under General Solares, capturing 1,500 men, three cannons, 2,000 rifles and 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition.

INSURGENTS ARE IN CONTROL OF WOODMEN MEET

FOND DU LAC, Wis.

May 6.—Insurgents captured the state convention of the Modern Woodmen with a vote of 65 to 48 in the selection of twenty-four delegates to the national encampment in Toledo next June. All delegates are insurgents.

TO SUBMIT CLOSING LAW TO VOTERS OF TOWN OF CAMPBELL MAY CHANGE STAND

There is nothing at present to force the saloons and road houses of the Town of Campbell to close at midnight, and a fight on the question is looming up for the near future.

At a recent meeting of citizens of the Town of Campbell a resolution ordering the closing of all saloons and road houses at midnight, was adopted by acclamation, which, at that time was deemed sufficient.

Town officers, however, claim to have since discovered that such a resolution is worthless and any such regulation must be passed by a majority vote at a special town election.

A petition calling for a special election on the saloon question has already been circulated throughout the Town of Campbell and the required number of signers has been procured. It is probable that the election will be held May 26.

There is much speculation among Campbell farmers as to the outcome of the election, many believing that the proposed closing law will be killed at the polls. It is commonly understood that with the midnight closing law, practically all of the road houses and saloons, numbering nearly a dozen, will go out of existence. As the Town of Campbell is deriving $300 license fee from each saloon and road house, it is thought that many will oppose the law owing to the loss of revenue which would result by its passage.

WOULD ORGANIZE AGIANT ALUMINUM WARE FIRM HERE

$500,000 Proposition Is Put Up to the Board of Trade at the Dinner Last Night

TELL COMMITTEE TO GET PLANT

Board Authorizes Representatives to Go Ahead and Secure Concern; to Employ 150 Men

ENTHUSIASTIC FOR CELEBRATION

Committee Chairmen Report Progress and Tell Arrangements for Home-coming Week

The manufacturers committee of the board of trade will take up with the industrial association the project to establish an aluminum ware factory in La Crosse.

Negotiations with the association were delayed today owing to the fact that President E. M. Wing, Secretary Theodore H. Ubbelohde and Directors F. P. Hixon and H. J. Hirshheimer were absent from the city.

While W. F. Hurtgen, chairman of the manufacturers committee, who presented the plan to the Board of Trade, together with all the members of that committee, are convinced that the project is sound, an obstacle has been discovered which may prevent the association from considering it.

The obstacle is a bylaw of the industrial association which declares that the organization will consider no proposition which is not established as a "going concern."

The aluminum company has never been organized; it is a project, not an institution.

If $75,000 in stock can be subscribed in La Crosse an aluminum ware plant employing 150 men at the outset will be established here within the immediate future, according to announcement made at the six o'clock dinner of the board of trade last night by W. F. Hurtgen, chairman of the committee on manufactures. Complete plans for the organization of a $500,000 concern have been worked out.

Board Wants Plant

After explanation of the proposition by Mr. Hurtgen, the board passed a resolution authorizing the committee on manufactures to exert every effort to bring the concern to La Crosse and guaranteeing them the support of the board of trade.

It was announced that about $10,000 had tentatively been subscribed by local investors for the plant.

Former President William Doerflinger, N. M. Scott and Mayor Ori J. Sorensen, as well as Mr. Hurtgen, praised the proposition. According to the plans as outlined by Mr. Hurtgen, the promoters of the new concern plan to use the Vote-Berger building for the installation of a stamping works, and plan to extend their equipment to include installation of a casting foundry and other departments of aluminum manufacture as fast as the business warrants.

Have Advance Orders

The promoters already have secured large advance orders as an evidence of the worth of their proposition, and declare that they will be able to dispose of half a million dollars' worth of their product during the first year.

They ask as their reward for organizing the company, $50,000 in stock, which they are willing to agree not to touch until they have disposed of the entire issue and have placed the plant upon a paying basis.

Want $250,000 Company

Local men who have been in touch with the promoters are en-

CELEBRATION WILL EXCEL ANYTHING IN CITY'S HISTORY

Enthusiasm for the Home Coming Marks Reports of Committee Chairmen

EXHIBITS TO SURPASS LAST YEAR

Many Manufacturers Have Already Decided to Take Part in the Exhibits

BIG INTEREST AMONG EX-RESIDENTS

W. F. Goodrich of Publicity Committee Has Letters from Persons All Over the Country

Enthusiasm marked the reports of the various committee chairmen in charge of arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration and home coming, made after the Board of Trade six o'clock dinner at the Masonic Temple last night. Each expressed the opinion that the triple celebration of Home Coming week, Made in La Crosse Week and the Fourth of July would make a high water mark in civic celebrations in the city.

Chairman Albert Funk, of the Made in La Crosse Week committee, announced that all the local manufacturers had been invited to participate in the exhibit, and that many had already announced their intention of doing so. He declared that the exhibits would outstrip those of last year. He said that arrangements had been made with the merchants for window space. A meeting of the board of trade committee and a committee of the Manufacturers and Jobbers club will be held this week or early next week to make arrangements, according to Mr. Funk.

Plenty of Cash

John C. Burns, chairman of the finance committee, announced that the funds were in good shape, and that plenty of cash to meet all expenses would be forthcoming.

W. F. Goodrich, chairman of the publicity committee, urged a more active interest among the citizens in the home coming. He said that 2,000 invitations have been sent to business concerns within a 150 mile radius of La Crosse, that 2,600 old residents have been sent invitations, that 49,000 inserts advertising the home coming have been distributed to business men of the city, that 20,000 souvenir post cards have been distributed, and that 25,000 envelopes with advertising matter upon them have been sold. Mr. Goodrich also said that window and car cards had been prepared, and that arrangements had been made for the purchase and sale of 2,000 gold plated buttons advertising the home coming. Ten thousand celluloid buttons will also be purchased for distribution during the home coming week. He declared that he had received letters from persons all the way from Maine to California, announcing their intention of coming to the city for the home coming.

To Make "Big Flash"

"With $500 allotted to my committee, I expect to make a loud noise and a big flash that will outdo anything that La Crosse has seen in its line," declared Andrew Lees. Mr. Lees is chairman of the fireworks committee. He said that he had been able to get very favorable propositions from the manufacturers of fireworks, but had closed no deals as yet.

The Indians are crazy to come to the city and take part in the celebration, according to William Doerflinger, chairman of the entertainment committee, in discussing the arrangements made for a camp of redskins in Pettibone park. He declared the Indians have decided to have canoe races in the park lagoon and to hold a war dance, as well as take part in the parades during the week. Mr. Doerflinger outlined the celebrations for the various days. He said that Tuesday was to be La Crosse day, when all the stores would be asked to close at noon. In the evening an old fashioned torchlight procession is planned, with band music to follow it.

Expects 25,000 Visitors

On the Fourth of July he said there would probably be 25,000 persons in the city from out-

HOPE REBELS WILL SAVE SITUATION IN MEXICAN TROUBLE

Are Expected to Drive Huerta Out and Obviate Necessity of Forcing Him to Quit

MEDIATION MEETS IN TWO WEEKS

Representatives of Huerta and U. S. Will Meet the Diplomats at Niagara Falls, Ont.

QUARREL MAY DASH U. S. PLANS

Reported Imminence of a Break Between Villa and Other Rebel Leaders May Spoil Intentions

BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, May 6.—The United States is relying on the constitutionalists to save the Mexican situation. It was learned today that both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan believe before any acceptable plan of mediation can be arrived at, the rebels will have driven Huerta from power and will hold Mexico City. Then they believe that the A. B. C. mediators can submit to the conquerors a plan of action which will provide for a new regime in Mexico, a legally elected president and congress, and strong support from without in crushing any rebellion, until the new government is firmly established.

Pleased by Delay

Because of this fact the administration was well pleased with the announcement that the formal sessions of the mediators will not begin until May 18 in Niagara Falls, Ont. That is almost a fortnight off. Villa has assured George D. Carothers, representative of the state department, with the constitutionalists, that he will have possession of Saltillo, Tampico, and San Luis Potosi within the next ten days. Occupation of these cities would absolutely clinch the hold of the rebels in the north. It would open to them two direct routes to Mexico City so that a speedy conquest of the capital would be possible.

The one obstacle to this, however, may be a break among the constitutionalists themselves. For the last 48 hours the constitutionalists' junta here and high officials of the diplomatic corps have been hearing of serious quarrels between Villa and the other leaders of the revolution. The local junta has been divided ever since the landing of the American forces at Vera Cruz. One faction holds Carranza should have insisted that the United States withdraw from Vera Cruz. The other believes aid of the United States is essential. If a break does come in the rebel camp, those in touch with the situation here believe it will mean another revolution in the north and in all probability a juncture of one faction with Huerta.

Seeks Diplomats

Meanwhile the president is seeking three experienced diplomats to represent this country at the Niagara Falls conference. The administration's hope of peace was greatly enhanced by the defiant letter sent General Maas by General Villa when the former asked help to attack Funston. Villa insisted Huerta wanted a foreign war to save himself and declared the constitutionalists will continue to fight until they have driven Huerta from power.

The United States will submit no plan until the mediators themselves take the initiative. Any proposition that carries with it only a settlement of the Tampico incident will be rejected by this government on the ground that this was a question of national honor and not a subject for mediation.

Meanwhile, reports from General Funston emphasize the preparations

WENDLING A DISTRICT INSPECTOR FOR THE MILWAUKEE RAILROAD

HUERTA DRINKING AS RULE TOTTERS

Starts Early in Morning and Plies Self with Liquor Through the Day

RUMOR CONSPIRACY AMONG POLICE

Reported They Have Been Approached to Seize the Capital Upon Arrival of Villa

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
VERA CRUZ, Mexico, May 6.—With a revolt in the capital reported to be threatened against him, and even Mexicans fleeing from the city to gain protection of the American flag in Vera Cruz, refugees here today declare that General Huerta is drinking heavily. Starting in the morning with his usual cognac, the dictator plies himself with liquor throughout the day.

Expect Capture of City

Some of the most prominent residents of Mexico City have fled from the capital because they expected Zapata, the bandit rebel, Villa or General Castro of Jojutla fame, to seize the city.

These Mexicans declare that safety in the capital during the mediation negotiations is not assured. The capital police are distrustful. It is rumored that they have been approached by agents of General Villa with a proposition that they seize the capital upon approach of Villa, thus preparing the way for a triumphal entry.

The police are equipped with rifles. News of the advance made to them by rebel agents has reached Huerta but he is afraid to attempt to disarm them.

Refugees Delayed

There was another delay in the departure of the 500 American refugees from Mexico City last night and they probably will not leave until Thursday. The refugees will probably sail direct for the United States from Puerto Mexico on the steamship Esperanza.

The military court is being kept busy here hearing cases against Mexicans. Three Americans have also been tried and deported. One of them was U. R. Mulcahy, who reported that he knew where a supply of arms and ammunition was being concealed by Mexicans and when a squad was sent with him, went to a gambling house and demanded $5,000. Mulcahy got the $5,000, but was arrested the next day when the proprietor told of having paid for a "concession."

PLAN NON-PARTISAN STATE CONVENTION

MILWAUKEE, May 6.—A non-partisan state convention will be held in Milwaukee in June, according to C. E. Pierce of Janesville and W. J. Brennan, who with others were today planning for the meeting. According to these delegates the convention will be more for determining the attitude of voters although a state ticket will be named also. About twenty-five men, democrats and republicans, attended the meeting today.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE APPOINTMENT IS MADE TODAY

Inspector Scholl of Chicago Places "Fired" Desk Sergeant in Charge of Large Force

SCHOLL GLAD OF HIS FIND

Says Road Will Get Benefit of Money La Crosse Spent to Educate the Detective

CREATES A NEW DEPARTMENT

Wendling's Advancement Will Not Interfere with Suit to Quash Action of Commission

John Wendling, for twelve years a member of the La Crosse police force, and during the past eleven months night sergeant, summarily removed from the department May 2 on charges of misconduct, which the evidence reduced to an indiscretion and a minor offense, was today appointed district inspector of the secret service of the C. M. & St. P. Ry.

The appointment was confirmed today by General Inspector Wm. A. Scholl, of the Chicago office, who has spent some time in La Crosse of late running down the gang of thieves who have preyed on the road in this vicinity.

"Wendling takes charge of several company detectives at once, and will shortly have several more assistants," said Inspector Scholl today.

Wendling's immediate territory will be La Crosse, North La Crosse and River Junction, which covers the field of operation of the gang.

The appointment of a district inspector here is a new department, establishing as it does a small headquarters in La Crosse. Inspector Scholl said the plan is to do the work here with a local force, thus relieving the Chicago inspector of the necessity for frequent personal visits.

"La Crosse has spent thousands of dollars making a detective out of Wendling," said Inspector Scholl. "I know how good a student he has been, and I am going to get the benefit of his education for the Milwaukee road."

Wendling said positively that he will not drop his suit to have quashed the proceedings by which the police commission removed him. He said:

"The case is in the hands of Senator Otto Bosshard, my attorney, and will be pushed to an issue."

WEATHER

Temperatures yesterday:
High, 75.
Low, 46.
Precipitation, 0.

Forecast for La Crosse and vicinity: Generally fair tonight and Thursday; no decided change in temperature.

For Wisconsin: Increasing cloudiness tonight and Thursday; probably showers north portion.

For Minnesota: Unsettled weather tonight and Thursday; probably showers; fresh to strong winds.

Weather Conditions

Rainy weather continues in the central, middle and north Atlantic states and rain and snow are falling in the Canadian northwest; elsewhere the weather is fair. The temperature changes during the past 24 hours have not been marked in any section but it is generally cooler in the central and plains states.

The pressure is low over the Atlantic states and another depression is central in the vicinity of Moorehead; it is highest north of Montana. The Minnesota low will cause unsettled weather in this section tonight and Thursday and showers are possible. There will be no decided change in temperature.

Stage Change.
St. Paul ..... 5.8 -0.1
La Crosse ..... 8.1 -0.1
Prairie du Chien ..... 8.3 -0.3
The river will fall during the next 36 hours.

EXPECT HIXON TO ACCEPT OR REJECT DIRECTORATE POST AT MEETING TODAY

It was expected at noon today that before evening Frank P. Hixon will have either accepted or rejected the proposal of the Ninth Regional bank section that he accept the office of business man member of the directorate of the federal reserve bank for the district.

In a conversation over long distance telephone at the above hour George W. Burton, president of the National Bank of La Crosse, said that only Mr. Hixon at that moment knew what his answer would be.

Mr. Hixon's close business association with Mr. Burton, and the latter's inability to predict the outcome, indicate that the question is a very close one in the mind of the former, who is known to have taken seriously the fact that in order to qualify he must give up important private banking connections.

The committee on organization recently appointed at Oshkosh, is meeting in Minneapolis today for the purpose of appointing subcommittees and taking other steps toward permanent organization.

Not only is Mr. Hixon the unanimous choice of the La Crosse bankers, but he has the solid support of the territory represented in the Ninth Regional Bank section.

President Burton is a member of the committee from La Crosse, and Mr. Hixon is in Minneapolis on a mission connected with the estate of the late W. W. Cargill.

Daddy's Bedtime

When the Story — Wooden Lions
Talked Alone

DADDY had never forgotten a dream he had had when he was a little boy. He asked Jack and Evelyn if they would like to hear it, and, of course, they were delighted at the prospect of hearing one of daddy's childhood dreams.

"As a little boy," began daddy, "I greatly admired lions. Whenever I went to the zoo I would spend almost all my time looking at these animals. One day I had been to the zoo, and, of course, had spent all my time watching the lions. When I got home late in the afternoon I was very sleepy.

"In our house there was a table which was held up by four wooden lions with shields. They sat very straight upon their haunches, and their shield they held straight out in front of them.

"Perhaps these lions had heard me talk about the live lions in the zoo and had meant to talk to me for some time. They saw that I fell asleep in the big chair beside them before going up to my own room and going to bed.

"I couldn't have been long going to sleep, for almost immediately the four wooden lions began to talk to me. They stood just as straight as ever, but they talked with a great deal of energy.

"You think," one of them began, "that those lions up in the zoo are so wonderful. Why, they don't compare with our wooden lions! Now, we are something worth while, while they only sleep and eat and roar just to make people think they are impressive and fine.

"You never hear us saying how fine we are. What would your daddy do if we didn't hold up this table? And what would become of all the books and papers that are always kept on this table?

"Oh, yes, we do get quite disgusted when we hear you come home and rave about those lions who simply roar and eat, and the more we think of those other lions the more you can realize how much better we are. It doesn't cost any one money to feed us and, as to roaring—well, we think that is very common. It is so common, we think, to draw attention to ourselves.

"But quietly, I am sure, we are appreciated by your family, even if you do prefer the real lions. If you brought home four of your real lions, do you suppose they would hold up this table all the time? No; they would probably pull everything off the table and make a great commotion."

"Now, of course, they were trying to make me feel very bad. I felt very sound asleep that I could just listen to them without trying to argue with them, for I would have liked to have explained to them that wooden lions were good for holding tables perhaps, but that real lions gave pleasure to little boys and were ever so much nicer because they were real!"

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

THE RETURN OF RHODA

By ELLA RANDALL PEARCE.

Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Rhoda coming back!" exclaimed Lanie, incredulously; and in the next breath, "Oh, won't Harvey be glad!" The other thoughts, slow in taking shape, because they came from deep and secret recesses, sent a flush over the girl's face, which was quickly averted lest mother-eyes might see and understand.

Lanie flew to her room and stood by the window looking unseeing over the landscape opulent with summer bloom. Rhoda coming back—her wonderful sister Rhoda, who had carried her splendid gifts of Nature to distant lands that she might return a conqueror! Lanie knew that many of the elder girl's dreams had faded; that the voice upon which most of her hopes were built had not seemed so marvelous in Berlin as it had in her native town. Rhoda's later letters had carried something of the heart-ache and the disappointment and despair which come to many young students in foreign cities. Still, it was hard for Lanie to believe that Rhoda had actually failed.

She leaned over the window sill, her face suddenly radiant.

"Harvey, oh, Harvey! Have you heard the news? About Rhoda?"

The young man below nodded stiffly. He seemed to be holding his features in control. He jerked his head backward.

"She wrote me, too," he said.

"Oh—h. Well, I'm going to fix her room now," called Lanie. "And to-morrow can't we both go to meet her? Mother wants me to drive to the station; but I thought—I thought—"

She paused, confused by the strange, sharp glance which shot upward from the man's dark eyes. Then Harvey Towne smiled in his usual friendly fashion.

"All right, Lanie, I'll go with you."

He strode away, thinking of the closing paragraph in the letter he had received from Berlin. "Meet me, Harvey, and come alone, if you can. I have so much to say to you." His thoughts were as grim as the expression which had settled upon his sun-browned face.

Lanie gazed after the retreating figure wistfully.

"Poor Harvey! He's all upset—and no wonder. Rhoda was horrid to him. Why, she was as good as engaged to him for years, and then, when she found she had a voice, she just laughed at him and ran away. I suppose it'll all be made up, now, with Rhoda back again."

The young face clouded, hot tears welled to the clear hazel eyes. Then Lanie flung her slender figure about with a wild gesture of her outflung arms.

"I must bear it! I mustn't care—I never had reason to care—never, never! Rhoda's all right. Harvey's all right. If I only had a voice, I'd run away now myself."

She started to sing shrilly, as if in defiance to the pain that was tugging at her heart strings, and the pretty pink and white room which had been Rhoda's was soon made fair and fresh again and ready for occupancy.

Rhoda stepped from the train eagerly on the morning, sweeping the two persons before her with a long, critical look. "Harvey! You little sister, how you've grown in a year's time! And you're growing pretty, too!"

Lanie surveyed her in shy amazement. This was a new Rhoda—this stylish, graceful woman in a taffeta suit of the latest mode, with an odd looking hat tip-tilted audaciously on her auburn head, and her gray eyes flashing in supercilious glances that matched her air of cool assurance.

"It's good to be home again," mused the traveler as they drove along the broad roadway. "Dear old sleepy little town! But you two look quite wide-awake. Lanie, I'll have to take you in hand. That frock is preposterous—and you ought to wear your hair up now. Don't you know you're a woman?"

"Let her alone," growled Harvey. "She'll grow up fast enough."

"Why, you dear old bear!" laughed Rhoda, tapping his cheek with her gloved hand. "But wait till I see you alone, and tell you what I've come home for."

Harvey flushed in spite of his efforts.

A SURE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp—At Once

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.

forts at self-possession; and Lanie shifted her feet uneasily. It was rather indicative of Rhoda to refer to personal affairs like that, she thought. She saw her sister's beautiful eyes challenge the gaze of the man who helped her to alight from the carriage; she saw Harvey look back with a fierce intentness that made Lanie suddenly feel like an intruder, an undesired outsider.

"Rhoda's strange; but she's handsomer than ever. And she'll have her way. He's going to resist her—he's that proud—but he'll lose in the end. He can't help himself." Thus ran Lanie's thoughts as she hurried to the refuge of the house. It had been harder than she had expected—this meeting with Rhoda!

She was in her own room again after supper, when a soft whistle sounded in the garden below her window. The room was unlighted, and Lanie's mood matched the enfolding gloom. Again the whistle came, but crouching just within the casement, the saddened girl made no reply. Her slowly awakening heart had yielded its secret at last, but no one else should know.

"Oh, Harvey, I was hoping you'd come." It was the rich voice of Rhoda, carefully lowered as she trailed her pale draperies over the grass to meet him.

"I was calling to Lanie, but she isn't home, I guess," said Harvey, coldly.

"No, I haven't seen her since we had tea. Perhaps," with a tinkling laugh, "she's gone to meet her sweetheart."

"Lanie has no sweetheart," returned Harvey fiercely. "She's only a child."

"Ah, I'm glad. But don't be so cross, dear boy. Is it possible you haven't forgiven me yet? Please, Harvey, let us be friends."

Rhoda's tones were soft and seductive. Her sister, crouching in the gloom, wished that the twin would move farther away.

"I want you to do me a favor, Harvey. You have great influence with father and mother. Help me to coax them to let Lanie go back to Berlin with me."

"Lanie—Berlin!" gasped the astounded young man.

Rhoda chuckled wickedly. "Oh, I knew I'd surprise you. But listen—I haven't told the folks as yet, but I'm here only to say good-by. I'm to be married to Dr. Stolzenburg and live in Berlin. He's rich, Harvey, and I can do a great deal for Lanie—there. I'm a failure as a public singer, but I'll succeed as a lady of society, I fancy. And I want Lanie."

There was a moment's tense silence; then a man's voice snapped through the shadows.

"Rhoda, you can't have Lanie!"

"Why, Harvey Towne! Is this spite or revenge?"

"No. Listen to me, Rhoda. You have always been selfish; and you want to take Lanie away now because she's young and pretty and will be an ornament to your home. You would make her as shallow and vain as yourself and marry her to the highest bidder. Oh, I know your plans, and I tell you Lanie shall not go!"

"I'll talk to Lanie. I'll take her in spite of you—of everybody," cried Rhoda, stamping her foot in sudden temper.

"I'll talk to Lanie—and we'll see who will win!"

The girl above caught the meaning of those vibrant tones; and, out of the bewilderment of her knowledge, came a flash of dazzling joy. She stretched out her arms yearningly in the darkness.

"Oh my dear, don't worry," she whispered tremulously. "Nobody—nothing could take me away from home—and you—now!"

DELAY ENCAMPMENT OF NATIONAL GUARD

Adj. Gen. Orlando Holway has sent word to local militia officers that the schedule of dates for the annual encampment of the Wisconsin National guard has not been fixed and probably will not be until the Mexican situation became more settled.

The probability, however, is that the encampment will be held in July as usual unless the guard is called out for service in Mexico.

DEATH WAITING IN THEIR NEW HOME

House Into Which Rushford Family Move Contains Diphtheria Germs; Three Dead

RUSHFORD, Minn., May 6.—

All hearts go out in sympathy to the sorely-bereaved family of Rev. Westphal, who only three weeks ago left the neighboring village of Peterson and moved to their new home at Cereel, Alt., Canada. The house into which they moved had harbored a case of black diphtheria and seemingly had never been fumigated and the family had been in the place but a few weeks when the mother was taken ill with the dread disease and died. Two of the smaller children have also succumbed to the terrible malady and a third is not expected to live.

Mr. C. C. Johnson, the furniture man, is busy moving his stock of furniture into the new building, erected upon the site of that which was burned a few months ago. The new building is one of the finest to be found in a good day's journey, at the least for a city the size of ours. All goods have a fine opportunity to be displayed to the best advantage and since there is ample room one has a fine view of all the stock.

Mrs. G. W. Rockwell, who has been spending the winter in Los Angeles, Cal., arrived home in this city last Thursday, April 30th.

A number of ladies of the O. E. S. went over to Preston this week to attend the school instruction for the members of the organization.

Mesdames Lee and Berland had as their recent guest, their father, County Commissioner O. T. Newhouse, of Spring Grove.

A daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Kierland, of Harmony, Tuesday and her grandmother, Mrs. T. Kierland of this city, is at present paying her a visit.

Mr. Knauf, the father of Mrs. Peter Miller, of this city, has been very ill and Mr. and Mrs. Miller have been over at Elba to see the old gentleman, who is improved somewhat.

Mr. and Mrs. Gynther Overland drove down from Bratsberg one day recently and visited at the home of Mrs. Overland's mother. When they returned they took home their old daughter, Myrtle, who has been staying with her grandmother, Mrs. L. L. Streeter, for the last five weeks.

Miss Wadden, who has been teaching the South Rushford school this year, has now finished her duties there and has returned to her home in Lanesboro.

Simon Heogh and Osmond Vaagon left Tuesday evening upon the beginning of their trip to the old country, leaving New York on the fifth of May.

Mrs. Carl Chilson is very ill at her home in this city and small hopes are entertained for her recovery.

The pupils who are in the agricultural class at the local school are given extra time during the week to work in their gardens at home, each pupil being expected to make and plant and keep in apple pie order a certain amount of ground. The ideal fishing weather that has prevailed lately has surely been a sore tax upon the nerves and patience of the average boy, when compelled to turn his face garden-wards.

Mrs. I. H. Dahl, of Ferry street, who suffered a stroke of paralysis two years ago, is very low and no hopes are entertained for her recovery. The old lady is eighty years of age and has been bed-ridden for almost two years at the home of her son, L. A. Gullikson.

Miss Margaret Otterson, who has been a resident of this city for a number of years, making her home with her sister, Mrs. Hans Holverson, has decided to return to Norway and will leave in about two weeks.

Miss Alma Helledar has been a recent guest of her friend, Hjalma Larson, who is teaching school near Wykoff.

Mr. D. S. Prinzling has been a recent Preston visitor.

S. A. Iverson has been a guest of friends and relatives here, being en-

PUT SULPHUR ON AN ITCHING SKIN AND END ECZEMA

Says This Old-Time Eczema Remedy is Applied Like Cold Cream

Any irritation or breaking out on the face, arms, legs or body when accompanied by itching, or when the skin is dry and feverish, can be readily overcome by applying a little bold-sulphur cream, says a noted dermatologist.

He states that bold-sulphur instantly allays the angry itching and irritation and soothes and heals the Eczema right up leaving the skin clear and smooth. Bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position for many years in the treatment of cutaneous disorders because of its parasite-destrorying property. Nothing has ever been found to take its place in treating the irritable and inflammatory skin affections. While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to subdue the itching irritation and drive the Eczema away and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

Those troubled should obtain at any pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream which is applied to the affected parts in the same manner as an ordinary cold cream.

ONALASKA, WIS.

By clean hitting Onalaska defeated the North LaCrosse team Sunday, by the score of 10 to 4. Sickles, pitching for Onalaska, kept the hits scattered and was never in danger.

The seniors of the local High school entertained the Juniors at a picnic at the head of the Island Friday afternoon. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

C. W. Meyers and E. N. Fields left Thursday evening for Blairtown, Iowa, where they will be employed for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson of Minneapolis spent Thursday at the home of J. A. Skogen.

The Ladies' Aid society of the United Norwegian Lutheran church will be entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. Kommerstad.

The agricultural school is beginning extensive advertising for their four-year course which starts next fall. The nature of the advertisement are large cards which explain the course, also pictures of the various organizations at the school. These are being distributed throughout La Crosse county and the surrounding counties.

Mrs. H. Allen attended a dinner at La Crosse Sunday at the home of Mrs. N. F. Peterson, the affair being in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lockman.

The city schools closed Friday noon in observance of Arbor and Bird Day.

Mrs. E. E. Howard is very ill at the home of her son-in-law, E. L. Childs. On account of her advanced age her condition is very serious.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist.

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause greatest distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisulphate of magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.

LOUIS OMERBERG NAMED DELEGATE

Louis Omerberg, La Crosse, at the state convention in Appleton, was named delegate to the national convention of the E. F. U. to be held at Flint, Mich., June 2.

The insurgents in the state convention of the Equitable Fraternal union were routed at the convention when the regulars elected their delegates to the national convention at Flint, Mich., June 2, and passed resolutions urging the national body to give no ear to further agitation for a change in E. ## LET GOOD MUSIC LURE US TONIGHT

That in a German-American city, naturally a music loving community, musical organization has met so poor success is a circumstance both regrettable and incomprehensible.

One reason assigned for past failures has been an alleged indifference on the part of the musicians themselves to public enterprises in which profit has been a secondary consideration.

The Philharmonic Society, which tonight gives its first concert, has answered this criticism by the disinterested devotion which its musicians have shown in furthering the endeavor.

The result is the creation of an organization of a high standard of excellence, and the concert tonight will reward those who attend with a nicely chosen program rendered with a high average of talent.

The pleasure in store would prove sufficient incentive to a large attendance. But to patronize it is a duty as well as a pleasure. La Crosse's devotion to music is again on trial, and tonight's performance should prove its vindication.

RETRIEVING THE PAST

If President Langdon's denial that any significance attaches to the police and fire commission's discussion of a possible successor to Chief of Police John Webber may be credited, the finding of the board in the Wendling case may be accepted as indicating a purpose to exact strict discipline from members of the police force in future.

Not only this, but an intention to go into ancient history and make members accountable for gross misconduct of the past may be presumed from the commission's having given weight to offenses to which Wendling confessed in the police investigation of 1911 in the stiff punishment accorded him at this time.

Indeed, comparison of the offenses condoned or forgiven in 1911 with the immediate cause of Wendling's dismissal suggests that his removal must have been ordered primarily because of the old confession. To illustrate:

The offenses upon which the Wendling charges were based, and for which ostensibly he was removed in the face of a superior record as sergeant, were that he took six eminently respectable citizens home in the police car one cold night after cars had ceased to run; that he stopped with them at the Michel brewery, where they stayed for several minutes and drank in all ten cups of beer; that he told Officer Ritter, who happened to come in, that he need not run away as the party was all right.

Now let us go back to the hearing of 1911. At that time there was published the following summary of Wendling's testimony:

lished the following summary of Wendling's testimony:

Wendling testified ***** he received $15.00 from McGrath ***** about a week before Christmas, 1910. ***** The latter handed him an envelope with $15.00 in it and "Merry Christmas" written on it. ***** McGrath told him it was "From Bob." ***** Swore that "Bob" Ewe runs a gambling house over the Hub saloon.

Testified that on one occasion he was presented with a turkey by Hattie Bowker (resort keeper) and that he got it from Langdon & Boyd's butcher shop. Wendling said Yoltan told him "a friend of ours wants to send you a turkey," and "if you are trading at a certain butcher shop you might as well get a turkey or goose."

It cannot be denied that Wendling's confession of 1911, involving him in that reprehensible class of misdemeanors whereby police service is demanded under the domination of organized vice, furnished an hundred fold better reason for his dismissal than did his indiscretion committed in doing a service to decent citizens; yet for the former he was not even reprimanded, while for the latter he was "fired."

Frank Yoltan, detective, in that memorable hearing in 1911, gave testimony of which the following is taken from the published summary:

He (Yoltan) had accepted two $5 "presents" from Rose Vermont (resort keeper) and $5 from Hattie Bowker (resort keeper). The Bowker woman gave him the $5 for getting her money back from a "short change" man. Yoltan admitted he had let the "short change" man go without reporting the case at central station. He admitted accepting a turkey from Hattie Bowker for a Christmas present, and taking a goat and a looking glass from Sadie Stone (resort keeper) but insisted he paid $1 for each. The value of the looking glass was appraised at $20.00.

(In answer to questions put to him by Commissioner Langdon at the time the above testimony was given, Yoltan said Mr. Langdon was not present at the time the turkeys were ordered and delivered.)

The offenses confessed by Yoltan were nothing compared with the major charges made against him, and giving him the benefit of every doubt, it was proved that he was on terms of social intimacy with the worst element of the underworld. Yet for what he did Yoltan was given but a thirty day suspension.

Compare this with the severe treatment of the recent misconduct of Wendling.

Other evidence involving other officers in the 1911 hearing would furnish equally astounding foundation for comparison, but let the above suffice. The belated recognition of the error to which the commission committed itself in 1911 which Wendling's punishment based partially upon it indicates, fairly raises the presumption of a purpose on the part of the commission to retrieve the prestige lost at that time by bringing all the old malefactors to tardy justice. Perhaps in Mr. Langdon's assertion that "other cases are pending" we have a promise that this will be done.

FEDERAL BUREAU TO COLLECT FOLK LORE SONGS.

A national search for old ballads has been inaugurated by the United States Bureau of Education, and Professor C. A. Smith of the University of Virginia has been commissioned to make a nation-wide search for versions of the old songs prevalent in Colonial times. According to the Philadelphia Press, out of eight of the rarest songs that have just been named in the report of Professor Smith, two are found in "Heart Songs."—These two were the two named by a majority of the twenty thousand music lovers who submitted their favorites to the publishers of that remarkable volume. That "Heart Songs" is the greatest single-volume collection ever put forth there is no doubt. And its value will increase steadily as the years go by. Our remarkable distribution closes this week, and we believe that most of our readers have been supplied. We urge those who have not, if there are any, to lose no time in cutting out their coupon and getting their copy of what will some day be a very rare book. Our coupon appears in today's paper and the distribution positively closes next Saturday.

Like and Like.

William Dean Howells said the other day of a certain type of "best seller" novel:

"The men who write these books are intellectually debased, and the public they write for is intellectually debased also. The thing reminds me of an anecdote.

"What are you doing dear?" a mother said to her little four-year-old daughter.

"I'm writing a letter to Alice."

"But, dear," said the mother, "you don't know how to write."

"The little girl, however, as she calmly continued her scrawl, answered:

"Well, mother, Alice doesn't know how to read."—New York Tribune.

What She Wanted to Know.

Not a few wealthy Americans teach in the Sunday school, among them Mr. Wanamaker, who owns one of the biggest stores in America.

One day, after Mr. Wanamaker had explained the lesson to the children, he said: "And now is there any questions that any little boy or girl would like to ask me?"

A girl of eight or nine rose.

"Well, Martha, what is it?"

"Please, Mr. Wanamaker," said the little girl, "what is the price of those large wax dolls in your window?"—Pearson's Weekly.

The Corner-Lot Tragedy.

When Frank P. Morse, publicity agent, traveler, and sight-seer, was making one of his western trips, he struck a town which, he was assured, was about to be caught up in the golden swing of a land boom.

"Buy a corner lot in this town, and before long you'll be a rich man," a real estate agent told him. Being naturally of a trusting and confiding nature, Morse bought the corner lot. Explicitly speaking, it was a corner lot on the map, but a magical eye could not have picked it out of the wilderness of fields and woods in which it was located at the time of the purchase. Morse, unconsciously acting with great genius the role of the simp-like sucker.

Other evidence involving other officers in the 1911 hearing would furnish equally astounding foundation for comparison, but let the above suffice. The belated recognition of the error to which the commission committed itself in 1911 which Wendling's punishment based partially upon it indicates, fairly raises the presumption of a purpose on the part of the commission to retrieve the prestige lost at that time by bringing all the old malefactors to tardy justice. Perhaps in Mr. Langdon's assertion that "other cases are pending" we have a promise that this will be done.

The Liver as Aid To Blood Purity

The Natural Stimulus Required is Not the Pur-gative Kind.

*Most Pills Are Better if Thrown Away.

Important as it is to keep the bowels open, it should be remembered that such action does not necessarily mean that the liver has been stimulated. The action of S. S. S. is a natural liver tonic, but not a bowel mover. It works in the liver cells to assist in the natural and necessary function of converting from the blood certain constituents into what are known as assimilable products. These are readily absorbed into the body tissues to constantly provide new and healthy material for that which is being destroyed by the energy of tissue changes.

The presence of any blood trouble naturally suggests a sluggish liver, but there is required these medicinal properties which, upon reaching the liver, still retain their catalytic energy to keep on through the blood circulation to do battle with impurities wherever they may have settled. Rheumatism, catarrh, anemia, most skin diseases and other results of impure blood, while implicating the liver by their morbid influences, are quickly checked by S. S. S. Its action throughout the blood circulation results in the stimulation of the tissue cells to the healthy and judicious selection of their own essential nutriment.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. Take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist, address The Swift Specific Company, 526 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

returned to the east.

At regular intervals thereafter he received notices from the collector of taxes for the city which, being reduced to the vernacular, read approximately as follows:

"You poor boob, kick in with two hundred bucks. We are about to lay one of the streets which will put the corner into your corner lot."

After the "simp" had contributed as much in taxes as the land cost originally, he became indignant and wrote a sarcastic letter to the collector, indicating that he would like to take a recess from the tax business and sell the lot. This was the reply he received:

"Streets are a necessity for corner lots. All such improvements are assessed against the property. Your lot is extremely valuable, hence the big assessments. However, owing to the lack of any demand for property in this city, it is impossible to sell the lot for any cash consideration."—Popular Magazine.

Political Economy.

"What means this heah p'ltical 'conomy?" asked Rastus, endeavoring to wade through a paper.

"Frum de way de politicians down in ouah wahd is actin'," answered Rufus, "I spects it means de mos' votes for de leas' money."

Truthful Confederate.

We have been told the story of a professional magician who had recently been making one-night stands in little Ohio towns. The other night he was in Mt. Gilead and he certainly made a great hit there. He had been performing for more than an hour and his audience was in great humor. The audience, in fact, was for him to a man when he pulled a bad boy of the town to the stage. A big laugh followed.

The magician brought the lad to the footlights.

"Now, my boy," he said, "I want you to tell this audience that you are sure your pockets are empty."

"My pockets is empty," answered the lad, obediently. "De rabbit you told me to put in me coat got away!"

CHAPTER ONE.

The Farradays have always had a hankering for authorship, my father having written a book on Church discipline, for which he was straightway disciplined himself by his Bishop; and it is tradition amongst us that in his youth my great-grandfather was associated in some manner with one William Caxton, merchant, who caused to be printed the first book in England. Tradition admits of some divergence of opinion as to the part he played in this honorable enterprise, but we Farradays are disposed to think the connection must have been as necessary to William Caxton as it was creditable to my ancestor. In my own case, I am aware that my matter may be superior to my manner, since I am more used to handling musket than pen, while such honors as I have won have been gained in a region where there is greater need of manual skill than scholarship. Nor can I forget that Captain Smith has set down the history of those first years at Jamestown in his own book, telling it better than can ever be told elsewhere; and now he who proved himself fittest to deal with the savages, and with those amongst us who were little better than savages, who exceeded us all in energy, courage, and woodcraft, lies buried in St. Sepulchre's Church, with the noise of London rising and falling like the roar of the sea about him.

This August day in the year of grace 1645, I begin my weighty task sitting at ease on my porch, with the broad river before me, and the summer sun blazing high in the heavens, with my dog asleep at my feet, and a half-smoked pipe of my best tobacco in my hand, which invites me more than does my pen, for though King James himself saw fit to denounce it as worthy only to regale the devil with after dinner, or some such expression, he liked the revenue it brought him well enough; while we planters, more consistent than he, early learned to value it for the solace it gave as well as for the riches to be got from its culture; and truly it has wrought a wonderful change in this land, for where so short a time ago one might almost have known the men of Virginia by name, so few were they, there are now some fifteen thousand, and there comes annually into our waters upwards of thirty trading vessels, and only last winter there lay in our harbours at one time twelve ships from England, a like number from Holland, and seven from New England.

But I am loath to begin. I had rather sit here giving myself up to memories and dreams! And why not—with the scent of the honey-suckle strong in the air, and the murmur that ever comes up from the great placid river, the league-long ripple from its shores filling my ears; while to the right and to the left of my lawn, which runs down to the very sands, I can look out over my wide tobacco fields, with the log huts of my servants in the shade of the still dense, impenetrable forest beyond.

My own house is of logs, too, though I purpose soon to build me one of bricks. It shall be patterned like the home of some lesser English squire, or that vicarage in the north of England where all things that have been most important in my life had their beginning. I have only to close my eyes to see that greener English turf, and our garden with its friar's walk, under the old yew trees, and the distant hills with their ever changing tints.

Ours was the fell country, and lay close to the Scottish line; indeed, of a clear day we could look almost over into Scotland. There was no small hazard in being thus near our northern neighbours, since it was their practice to harry the dales and drive off horses and cattle, when they were content not to murder and outrage. Every considerable house had its strong peel tower into which the family withdrew in time of danger, and from which, being relatively safe, they might observe the raiders as they drove off their fourfooted booty; and from which also they could later issue to gather their friends for pursuit.

I own it is not in the nature of Englishmen weakly to admit of wrong doing, and there was much in our judgment to excuse the herds of small, shaggy cattle which grazed contentedly on our fells; for I, as did my elders, believed the Scots were all thieves, and that there was some magic saving grace in the thick speech of our north country folk, since it became an honorable and gallant adventure even when they slipped across the border and came back with a proper spoil, though I early knew they sometimes came back empty handed, or worse still, not at all. I was equally certain that it was a villainous, criminal thing for the Scots to sweep into the country like a cloud of hungry locusts. What made this difference I was too young rightly to comprehend, but I knew this much past all peradventure, the Scots to the last man were knaves, while the sole virtue of that region abode on our side of the border; and if one had any doubts that our ancient enemy was hopelessly in the wrong in all conceivable matters, one had only to hear of Johnny Armstrong of Gilnoch to be convinced of the soundness of our north country creed. Now this Johnny Armstrong in whose tragic history I took a somewhat cruel joy, when summoned to appear before his own king, went dressed more like a prince than a borderer, attended by half a hundred followers, and no doubt preceded by his own evil fame, which so angered the king that he hanged the lot. One would scarce expect greater assurance than this that the Scots knew they were in the wrong.

My father was vicar of a small and exceedingly poor parish which lay far up on the fells, where the wind blew cold in August even, when the moors were one wide garden of blazing purple heather. His church was a small edifice which dated back to Saxon times; indeed, the country had known Roman, Saxon, and Dane, as well as the later Norman. Men had fought and tramped and pillaged far and near over those wide uplands, and always there had been the Scots to be reckoned with. The antiquity of the place was fully attested by the old Roman wall which was at the back of our very garden, by the old Roman well in our small meadow, and by the copper coins and leaden seals which the ploughmen sometimes brought to my father from the fields; and there still were traces of what my father said was a Roman camp on the edge of the beck that flowed through our valley, while built into one corner of our church was a slab of stone with a curious inscription, which certain learned men had declared to be Runic, while others equally learned asserted it to be Greek, but all were agreed that it was very wonderful and very ancient.

TO TOUR EUROPE

MADISON, Wis., May 6.—A university mother and daughter, sophomore and junior respectively in the college of agriculture, will tour Europe this summer on a motorcycle equipped with a luxuriously cushioned sidecar. They are Mrs. Rachel Foster Avery and Miss Julia Avery, well known suffragists of Philadelphia. They will return next fall to resume their agricultural studies.

One nice thing about a man in jail is that he isn't apt to ask for more time.

5,918,000 gallons Polarine sold last year

1,536,232 gallons more than in 1912

The constantly increasing use of POLARINE by thousands of motorists is indisputable evidence of its lubricating efficiency.

It affords perfect lubrication to all makes and types of motor cars, motor trucks, motorcycles and motor boats.

POLARINE maintains the correct lubricating body at any motor speed or temperature.

Polarine

FRICION REDUCING MOTOR OIL

POLARINE remains liquid at zero. POLARINE differs from all other makes of motor oils, in that it furnishes perfect lubrication to friction surfaces at extremes of temperature.

These essential characteristics obviate the necessity of changing oil for summer and winter lubrication—also the necessity of mixing kerosene, graphite and other injurious products with unsuitable and poor cold-test oil for the purpose of making it feed in winter weather.

Mrs. James F. Summitt, No. 1006 East Eighth St., Muscatine, Iowa, writes:

"My health was so miserable for years that I was practically an invalid. I had no family, owing to my ill health. I was induced to give Peruna a trial, and found very quickly that it was helping me.

I am now well and happy. We have a baby boy. He is our first and only child.

"I am now well and happy. We have a baby boy, which we believe is the direct consequence of my improved health. He is our first and only child, and if Peruna had not cured me of my ailments we should never have had him. I hope every suffering woman will give Peruna a trial, the same as I have."

CAN'T PASS LAW TO STOP STRIKE

Colorado Legislature Is Bound by Terms of Call Not to Pass Arbitration Measure

DENVER, Col., May 6.—The special session of the Colorado legislature, now being held, cannot pass a compulsory arbitration law to end the Colorado coal strike.

In answer to numerous questions, Attorney General Fred Farrar today decided that under the call for the special session issued by Governor Ammons, the assembly is limited to an appropriation bill to meet the military debts incurred as the result of the strike, and to the passage of proposed constitutional amendments for submission to the people.

Progressives in the legislature today presented to the governor a letter urging him to extend the scope of his call.

Five bills have been introduced by direction of the governor covering the subjects set forth in the call. One of these, providing for a permanent state constabulary, has already aroused the bitter opposition of labor members.

MURDER PLEA
SOMNAMBULISM

CHICAGO, May 6.—William Keith, on trial here for the murder of Walter Paul, today made a plea of "somnambulist insanity," through his attorneys.

Keith contends that he dreamed he entered a west side saloon and sent for Paul; that he dreamed he drew a revolver and shot Paul because he dreamed Paul had been too attentive to his wife and daughter.

Expert counsel and detectives have been furnished in Keith's case by James A. Patten, millionaire grain operator, who became interested in Keith through a letter he wrote to Mrs. Patten asking aid. Investigation is alleged to have shown that in Alabama Keith and his people were known as "sleep-walkers."

NO INVITATIONS FOR THE WEDDING

President's Daughter Invites Her Friends to the Ceremony Over the Telephone

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Not even the formality of engraved invitations is to mark the fourteenth White house wedding tomorrow evening at six o'clock. Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, the bride-elect, extended invitations today to friends over the telephone.

Many beautiful and expensive gifts continued to arrive at the white house today for the bride-to-be of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. From high official sources only one gift had not been received and that was from the senate. That body, however, has practically decided upon a beautiful gold bracelet set with diamonds.

SETS DATE FOR TRIAL

CLINTON, Iowa, May 6.—May 18 was the date set today by Circuit Judge Cochran of Sullivan for the opening of the May term of court here, where Carl E. Person, striker-editor, will be tried for the murder of ex-Police Chief Tony Musser. The judge today set the grand jury to work on the case and an indictment was regarded as certain.

HUNT MURDEROUS ASSAILANT

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 6.—Search for the "short, stout man" who butchered eight year old Florence Dove and brutally assaulted Elizabeth Klimek, her little playmate, on a hillside at North Braddock on Monday, became statewide today. Two suspects are held.

NORMAL TO GIVE GERMAN COMEDY

"Einer Muss Heiraten" to Be Staged at the School Tomorrow Night

The German club—of the Normal school will give a German play in the Normal auditorium tomorrow night at eight o'clock. "Einer Muss Heiraten" is the name of the play. It is a one act comedy with lots of humorous situations. A father makes his will so that one of his two sons must marry in order to secure the father's fortune. They draw lots and the oldest one who has never wooed gets the lucky or unlucky card. His younger brother, who has had a great deal of experience along these lines, instructs his brother how to make love. The younger one in his instructions is so arduous that the young lady named in the father's will accepts him and the marriage is consummated much to the grief of the older. The cast of characters is as follows:

Wilhelm—Fred Reimers.
Jacob—Lief Schreiner.
Louisa—Charlotte Harpel.
Lizzie—Marcella Keller.
Miss White of the Normal school faculty is coaching the play. As an added attraction to the play, J. L. Utermoehl will sing several German songs and Mr. Leonard Fried of Fountain City will render a violin solo. The public is cordially invited to attend this play.

Glacier National Park

is a veritable gem among our National parks—so strikingly contrasted and entirely different from the others. Everywhere in awe-inspiring predominance are mammoth mountains, gorgeously stratified, many of them glacier covered, great mile-deep, u-shaped basins, holding beautiful forest-fringed lakes and dashing rivers. It's truly a region of bigness. See it this summer and you will get the full meaning of "See America first."

The only through trains from Chicago, Kansas City, St. Joseph and Lincoln (direct connecting service from St. Louis, Omaha and Denver) to Glacier National Park is via Burlington Route and Great Northern Railway direct to the main entrance.

Let me give you a descriptive booklet on Uncle Sam's (also yours) newest play ground.

WOULD ORGANIZE A GIANT ALUMINUM WARE FIRM HERE

deavoring to have them organize a $250,000 company at the outset, planning to increase the capitalization as the business grows. Mr. Hurtgen, in explaining the project, said that the subscription of $75,000 worth of stock by local people would give them control of the company, and that the promoters were willing to have the president of the company a local man.

Concerning the men behind the project, Mr. Hurtgen, Mr. Doerflinger and the mayor united in asserting that they were of the highest business integrity, and conversant with every detail of aluminum ware manufacture. They declared that there is a demand for aluminum ware that greatly exceeds the supply, and that there is a large percentage of profit in the business.

Several other places, notably Keokuk, Iowa, are after the new plant, according to Mr. Hurtgen, and he declared that La Crosse must act quickly to bring the concern here. He said that a syndicate interested in the Mississippi river power development at Keokuk is ready to finance the concern if it will locate in Keokuk.

MEXICAN GIRLS SMUGGLE BULLETS

said the constitutionalists' forces almost entirely surround Mazatlan and that the fall of that port is only a question of days. He said constitutionalist artillery had so badly damaged the federal gunboat Morelos in the Mazatlan harbor that she grounded. He also asserted the rebels had taken Isla de Piedra, commanding Mazatlan harbor and had mounted cannon.

Victory Confirmed

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, May 6.—Messages received here today by members of General Carranza's provisional cabinet confirmed General Obregon's victory at Acaponeta. The fighting was desperate, both sides losing heavily. The defeated federal forces number 4,000.

being made to oppose any American advance. Mexican troops are being concentrated at every vulnerable point from Pueblo to the American lines, while it is stated on the authority of Major Smedley D. Butler, that the railway bridges have been mined.

The constitutionalists made a sharp attack upon federal reinforcements in the northwestern portion of Vera Cruz province yesterday and an indecisive engagement followed, according to a message from Admiral Badger today.

The admiral also transmitted a report from Admiral Mayo at Tampico stating it was persistently rumored that Gen. Villa is marching toward Tampico to take and burn the city. Admiral Mayo said very little credence is placed upon a rumored agreement for a truce at Tampico.

Consul Bonney and wife of San Luis Potosi reported that they are safe in Mexico City and will leave tonight. The message shed no light on the present whereabouts of Consul Silliman of Saltillo, reported jailed at San Luis Potosi.

Proceed Without Carranza
The A. B. C. mediators today are planning to proceed with their negotiations without Carranza's participation. This definite statement was made by one of the mediators to the United Press, following a brief conference with the secretary of state this afternoon. He declared that the mediators regard Carranza's refusal of an armistice as the chieftain's last word in the situation. The speaker admitted, however, that Carranza could have an opportunity to join the mediation if he should change his mind.

FRENCH AVIATOR KILLED

TANGIERS, May 6.—Lieut. Laque was instantly killed today when his aeroplane capsized and dashed to the ground from a height of 1,500 feet while Laque was attempting a flight to Ito to Meknes. Bonnereau, a private, who was Laque's mechanic, escaped with merely a scratch on the arm.

side. He described the parades planned, and said that an old-fashioned Fourth of July picnic at Myrick park would be one of the chief features of the day.

Prof. W. P. Roseman is in charge of the parades planned for the big week. He was enthusiastic about the success with which his plans have been received, and declared that in the industrial parade at least 500 autos, gaily decorated, would be in line. He said that the whole Third Regiment of Wisconsin guards had been offered by Colonel Richards of Sparta. This, he said, would probably be too expensive, but he said that in any event the near-by companies would be invited to attend and march in the parades. Among the local organizations which will take part he mentioned the D. A. R., the Spanish War Veterans, the G. A. R. and the labor and fraternal organizations of the city. The evening of the Fourth of July there will be a marvelous aquatic parade, he said, at which some spectacular feature, possibly the battle of Lake Erie, will be reproduced as a climax.

H. Clay Evenson, father of the community banquet idea, who is chairman of the committee on entertainment of farmers, declared that aside from the general entertainment features provided, he intended to erect a big tent on the market square, where visitors from the country nearby could make their headquarters.

E. S. Dittman, chairman of the committee on music, said that the city will be supplied with music from morning until night during the entire week.

String on Governor.

"We have a string on one governor and a tentative promise of two more," was the statement of Mayor Sorensen, chairman of the reception committee. He said that arrangements for receptions in the city hall were well under way.

"The decorations will be the alpha and omega of the whole celebration," declared N. M. Scott, chairman of the committee on decorating the city for the event. He told of the purchase of a series of illuminated arches to stretch over Main street from Sixth street to the river, and described the proposed use of flowers on the white way standards. He advocated the extension of the white way lighting system from Third street to the river.

John M. Holly, president of the State bank, spoke briefly, commending the plans for the celebration. He declared that the week would mark the greatest feat ever accomplished by La Crosse in the line of civic functions.

Vote of Thanks to Doerflinger.

Prolonged applause marked the adoption, upon motion of W. F. Hurtgen, of a rising vote of thanks to William Doerflinger, retired president of the board of trade. Mr. Doerflinger made a brief speech of thanks following the ovation.

The first speaker of the evening was John L. Utermoehl, retiring secretary of the board. Mr. Utermoehl thanked the members for its co-operation with him in the five and a quarter years in which he occupied the position of secretary of the board of trade.

Previous to the dinner, the board of directors met and accepted the resignation of Secretary Utermoehl. Mr. Utermoehl's resignation is to take effect May 15. His successor has not been appointed, although it is understood that the candidates for the position were discussed at last night's meeting. The directors will meet at the La Crosse club next Tuesday noon to select a secretary.

DISCUSS MINERAL LEASES

WASHINGTON, May 6.—President Wilson took up this afternoon plans for leasing federal mineral lands. He discussed the entire question with Secretary of Interior Lane and Senator Walsh of Montana.

COMMISSION WON'T MEET

There will be no meeting of the police and fire commission tonight although this is the date for the regular monthly meeting.

All of the business before the commission was transacted at the last meeting when one officer was discharged, another reduced to the ranks and a patrolman reprimanded.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE LOVE TALE DENIED

C. F. Robare Drinks Acid and Mother Says She Knows of No Motive

IS AT HOSPITAL—WILL RECOVER

Is Son of N. Robare Who Killed Self in 1910
Without Apparent
Motive

After drinking a bottle of carbolic acid in an attempted suicide yesterday afternoon, C. F. Robare, 21, 407 North Seventeenth street, staggered toward his mother and then fell to the floor unconscious. He is at St. Francis hospital and will recover.

Mrs. Robare today denied the story that a love estrangement was responsible for her son's act. She declared she was unable to give any explanation regarding the motive.

According to her story she was in the front room of her home shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon when she saw her son reel down stairs from the upper floor and advance toward her. Before she could reach him he fell headlong on the floor.

She immediately summoned Dr. G. J. Egan, and her son was rushed to the St. Francis hospital. Dr. Egan today declared that Robare will recover.

Police records show that N. Robare, father of C. F. Robare, committed suicide November 19, 1910, without any apparent motive.

Mrs. Robare said today that her son had given no indication of his intention and that nothing unusual had happened during the last week. He had quit his job a few days before and had told a friend that he was going to leave the city.

His mother, however, thought nothing of this as he had left home on several other occasions. Regarding the rumored love affair, Mrs. Robare said that she was positive that the story was groundless and that as far as she knew her son was not in love with any girl.

ELEANORA LUKWITZ DIES OF DIPHTHERIA

Eleanora, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus A. Lukwitz, 1014 Pine street, died this morning at 9 o'clock of diphtheria at the St. Francis hospital, after an illness of four days. Besides her parents, she leaves one sister, Lillian. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the hospital. Rev. Julius T. Gamm of the German Lutheran church officiating. Interment will be made in Oak Grove cemetery.

BECKER DEFEATED IN FIRST BATTLE

Attorneys for Former Police Lieutenant Lose the Opening Skirmishes of Second Trial

NEW YORK, May 6.—Absolute defeat for attorneys representing Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, on his second trial here today for plotting the murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal, met every effort they put forth today to delay the trial, obtain a change of venue and to have District Attorney Whitman committed for contempt of court.

Get Two Jurors

During the morning session two jurors were obtained. They were F. Meredith Blagden, bond broker, foreman; W. D. Dalton, advertising man. Blagden was the tenth talsman examined, Dalton the twenty-third. After the two jurors had been sent out under guard for luncheon and the talsmen had left the court room, Supreme Court Justice Seabury ruled on the application of W. Bourke Cockran of Becker's counsel that District Attorney Whitman be adjudged in contempt of court for having given newspaper stories claimed to be prejudicial to Becker.

"I do not consider the affidavits given in this matter of any consequence," said Justice Seabury.

FIND FEW SAILORS OF BURNING SHIP

Twenty-seven Men of Crew of Seventy Are Found by Passing Vessels and Taken to Port

SEARCH SEA FOR LOST SURVIVORS

Liner Manhattan Is Cruising About Scene Where Columbian Burned Hunting for Missing Boats.

SABLE ISLAND, May 6.—A wireless message received here early today from the steamship Manhattan declared that Captain McDonald and thirteen members of the crew of the British steamer Columbian had been picked up by the Manhattan, and that the vessel was searching for others who may be adrift in small boats.

The Columbian was first sighted on fire from stem to stern by the North German Lloyd liner Seydlitz. The Manhattan, New York to Antwerp, headed toward the position given by the Seydlitz and searched for survivors.

The liner Franconia picked up thirteen men yesterday. One boat containing the first and second officers and seventeen men is still missing. The Manhattan is searching for them. The Manhattan wireless stated:

"Manhattan picked up one boat of Columbian, captain and thirteen others. One engineer killed in explosion and one man drowned, leaving ship. Manhattan still searching for other boat."

The rescue was made early today, the message added, in 41.19 north latitude and 59.35 west longitude.

The Franconia is due in Boston late today with the first survivors picked up. With those aboard the Manhattan a total of 27 have been rescued. The crew of the Columbian numbered between sixty and seventy. Those picked up by the Franconia were too weak to help themselves, and one of the Franconia's boats went over the side to their aid. Hundreds of passengers saw the rescue.

BANQUET CLOSES VOLLEYBALL YEAR

Upwards of Sixty Players with Wives and Friends Attend Feast at the Y. M. C. A.

Upwards of sixty players with their wives and friends attended the banquet which last night marked the close of the volleyball season at the Y. M. C. A. The banquet was of five courses, and was presided over by C. H. Schweizer, who called responses from J. R. Moore, "A Toast to the Winners," A. R. McCormick, "A Boost to the Losers," and L. P. Benozet, "A Toast to the Ladies."

The banquet hall was appropriately decorated, volleyball nets being draped over the tables.

A wreath of flowers marked the place of the captain of the winners, A. R. McCormick, one not quite so gay, and mixed with crepe, that of the near-winner, J. R. Moore, and four of mourning those of the captains of the less fortunate teams.

The games yesterday afternoon between the Laws and the Normals and the Mails and the Higs ended the official volleyball season for this year. The final standings of the teams follow:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Higs	19	10	.655
Norms	18	11	.620
Laws	17	12	.586
Noons	15	14	.517
Mails	13	16	.448
Docs	12	17	.414

G. H. KRUEGER INJURED

G. H. Krueger, 709 South Fourth street, employed at the Stamping and Tool company, Cass and South Third streets, was painfully hurt yesterday afternoon when his left hand was maimed by the machine he was operating. It is thought that amputation of a finger may be necessary.

THIN BLOOD CAUSES BACKACHE

Every muscle in the body needs a supply of rich, red blood in proportion to the work it does.

The muscles of the back are under heavy strain and have but little rest. When the blood is thin they lack nourishment and rebel. The result is a sensation of pain in those muscles.

The best medical authorities agree that backache seldom or never means kidney trouble. Real organic kidney disease may have progressed to a critical point without developing a pain in the back. Doctors detect its presence by the excretions of the kidneys themselves.

Pains in the back should always lead the sufferer to look to the condition of the blood. It will be found in most cases that the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the blood will stop the grumbling of the ill nourished muscles of the back. How much better it is to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the blood than to give way to unreasonable alarm about your kidneys. If you suspect your kidneys, any doctor can make tests in ten minutes that will set your fears at rest or tell you the worst.

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A free book, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

SLAYER OF VOECK PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Walter Jones Appears Unconcerned When Arraigned on Charge of Murder

SECRECY SURROUNDS APPEARANCE

Attempt Is Made to Bring Jones Into Court Without Attracting an Audience

With his hands heavily manacled Walter Jones, charged with the murder of William Voeck at West Salem, was led into the county court room yesterday afternoon. After the handcuffs had been removed Jones faded the judge and in a clear strong voice declared he was "not guilty."

Jones, while appearing to be guilty, and realizing the seriousness of his position, showed no signs of weakening and maintained a sullen silence except to enter his plea.

Judge Brindley read the charge of first degree murder and then turning to the prisoner, asked him if he was guilty or not guilty. Jones replied in a quiet voice and upon being asked to repeat his plea, answered "not guilty" in tones that could be heard throughout the room.

He appeared in court without a lawyer and when questioned as to whether or not he intended to procure an attorney, said he didn't have sufficient funds. Upon being informed that the state pays the attorney's fees he said he will retain a lawyer but had not decided whom to select.

Waives Examination.
After entering his plea of not guilty Jones waived preliminary examination before the county court. He will be tried before the circuit court next week.

No bail was permitted and Jones was led back to the county jail by Sheriff John A. Weber to await his trial.

Jones was brought into the court house through the Third street entrance to avoid curious spectators.

Sheriff Takes Precautions.
Sheriff Weber, as a means of precaution, armed himself thoroughly before taking the prisoner from the county jail.

Jones is alleged to have shot Voeck in the streets of West Salem while under arrest and guarded by a deputy sheriff and the town marshal.

MRS. MOLDENHAUER DIES AT GREAT AGE

Mrs. Christina Moldenhauer died at 3:15 o'clock this morning of the infirmities of old age at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emma Senn, 2321 Michel street. Mrs. Moldenhauer was born in Germany, December 26, 1832, coming to America in the year 1858. Her husband died six years ago.

Surviving are eight children: Mrs. Emma Senn of La Crosse; Frank Moldenhauer and Mrs. William Husbmann of Nodine, Minn.; Peter of Pine Creek, Minn.; Mrs. Michael Ready of Dresbach, Minn.; Mrs. Jacob Hartman of Minneapolis; Mrs. John Harolds of South Ridge, Minn.; and Mrs. Max Lesche of Dakota, Minn. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

CAUCUSES TO BE HELD TOMORROW

To Select Delegates to the County Convention of Regular Republicans; Reorganize Party

Tomorrow is the day set for holding caucuses in the city wards and various towns throughout the county for the purpose of choosing delegates to a county convention to be held at the court house here Saturday afternoon.

The convention purposes, according to George H. Gordon, W. E. Barber, Frank P. Hixon and others influential in its calling, are to work a re-organization of the republican party, and to boom the election of a regular republican ticket. The candidates will pledge themselves to reduce state taxes and abolish some of the state commissions.

LA CROSSE FANS TO SEE "OPENER"

A number of La Crosse baseball fans today motored to Winona, Minn., there to witness the opening game of the Minny league season between Winona and the Duluth club.

Among other cars was that of John A. Elliott. Mr. Elliott's guests were Joseph Safford, George Linker, Fred Hartwell and Henry Rooney.

MOUND PRAIRIE COUPLE WED

John C. Bicker and Miss Kathryn Senn of Mound Prairie, Minn., were married yesterday afternoon at two o'clock by Rev. W. A. Billings, at the parsonage, 117 North Eighth street. Mr. and Mrs. Bicker left immediately for their home in Mound Prairie.

HOLD ALLEGED CAR THIEVES FOR FEDERAL ACTION

Discharged in Court Here for Lack of Jurisdiction but Re-arrested at Once

U. S. MARSHAL FLINT HOLDS THEM

Cases Will Probably Come Before Grand Jury in St. Paul for Probationing

RUMORED NAGLE WILL CONFESS

He Waives Examination but Alcorn and Simpson Both Demand a Hearing

George Alcorn, (Chi) Leon Simpson and John Nagle, alleged leaders of a gang of railroad robbers, were discharged in county court this morning because of lack of jurisdiction and immediately placed under arrest by United States Marshal Rock Flint. The cases against the three men will probably be probed by the United States grand jury which meets at St. Paul on the first Tuesday in June, and if indictments are returned they will stand trial before the United States district court either at Winona or St. Paul.

The three men were taken before United States Court Commissioner Alfred Harrison for examination. Nagle, whom it is rumored is contemplating turning state's evidence for the prosecution, waived examination and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury under $500 bonds. Alcorn and Simpson, through their attorney, Frank Withrow, both demanded examinations and were bound over under bonds of $1,000 to appear for examination Wednesday, May 13. Efforts were being made to procure bonds for the three men this afternoon.

No Jurisdiction
The men when taken before the county court were charged with burglarizing a car at River Junction which is in Minnesota. As a result no prosecution could be made before a Wisconsin court.

The penalty for the crime with which they are charged, under the federal act, is from one to ten years in the federal prison and a fine not exceeding $5,000. The men are charged with the theft of eighteen sacks of flour, in transit, which is a federal offense. It is also charged that they broke the seals on the car which constitutes burglary.

Hold Witnesses

Roy Nemeth and Nellie Prill, who have been held at the county jail for the last eight days as witnesses, were released by the county authorities this morning and turned over to the United States marshal. They were later taken before the court commissioner and held under $500 bonds. Both declared that they would not furnish bonds which will mean their retention until the cases are passed upon by the grand jury and possibly longer. They are entitled to $1 a day each as witness fees while being held.

Detective Shaw of the Milwaukee railroad company today intimated that the railroad and city detectives have just started on their campaign to clean up on railroad thieves and that many more arrests are expected.

RUMOR AMERICANS WOUNDED IN RIOT

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, May 4. (Delayed).—Rumors from the interior reaching here today declared that Walter Neal and Patrick Balld, both Americans, had been wounded; C. G. Kelly and C. B. Williams, English citizens had been killed in trouble at El Favor mines, at Hostatiquillo. The stories declared that a riot of mine workers had resulted in the casualties.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Beyond a report from Admiral Howard of rumored disturbances at the El Favor mines, the navy department today had no confirmation of the story from Guadalajara.

TOWN OVERCROWDED BY VETS' REUNION

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 6.—One hundred thousand visitors here today welcomed the tattered ranks of the confederate veterans of the civil war who are holding their annual reunion in this city. Three thousand are said to be without places to sleep. Many today reported they had walked the streets all night. Vacant houses in which to shelter the old soldiers tonight have been rented.

At the first meeting of the veterans today the keys of the city were turned over to Gen. Young, commander in chief of the soldiers, by Mayor Swearington. Gov. Trammell welcomed them to the state.

There are people who look upon matrimony as a necessary evil.

LACROSSE WOMAN INHERITS $14,000

Mrs. George Schweizer, the Beneficiary of Father's Estate; Total Value of which Was $67,710

Mrs. George Schweizer, 1402 Madison street, this city, inherited $14,000 from the estate of her father, William A. Appel, prominent Madisonian, who died recently. She will also receive the family home at Madison. To his brother, John Appel, Chicago, he left $300. The remainder of the estate goes to his son, William A. Appel. It was appraised as, real property, $28,500; personal property, $26,210.

When women fish for compliments they never boast of the big ones that got away.

GOVERNOR DENIES HE STRUCK WOMAN

TOPEKA, Kas., May 6.—Denying that he struck the woman, Governor Hodges today filed answer to the damage suit for $2,300 which Mrs. Luella West of Wichita recently brought against him. She charged that the governor struck her on the shoulder while she was in his office attempting to pick from his desk some papers she says she had brought to show him.

The governor says he owned the papers and alleged that she forcibly seized them. His answer further says that the governor "mildly and gently" resisted the taking of the papers.

WEBER FUNERAL TOMORROW

La Crosse Lawyer Selected at Meeting of Jurist's Supporters at Eagles Last Night

LAUDS THE MILWAUKEE JUDGE

"Just the Man the People Want," Says Mahoney Today; Not Opposed to All Commissions

Alderman Paul W. Mahoney, at a meeting of Karel supporters at the Eagles' club rooms last night, was chosen president of the Karel club, organized at the meeting.

John L. Utermoehl, secretary of the board of trade, was elected vice president and John A. Elliott of the Elliott-Loeffler Co., was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Last night's gathering was for the organization of a Karel club and to lay tentative plans to secure the gubernatorial nomination and election for Judge John A. Karel of Milwaukee.

Paul W. Mahoney was authorized to name Karel committeemen in every city ward and to call a meeting within two weeks when further plans will be mapped out.

Discussing Judge Karel's candidacy Mr. Mahoney today said: "I think Judge Karel a fine man. I believe he is just the kind of a man the people want for governor. He stands for economy and conservation in state administrations. There is no doubt in my mind but that he will be nominated and elected by an

Commander of the Federal Forces in Trinidad Will Post Call to Disarm Thursday

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Colonel

Lockett, commanding the federal troops at Trinidad, Col., notified Secretary Garrison today that he will post the call for disarmament of citizens in the strike district tomorrow.

Hywell Davies, Colorado States conciliator in the United States, returning to Washington this morning after a mysterious absence of several days, announced that he would not go to Colorado before next week. He will meet William Fairley, representing organization labor in the conciliation board, at St. Louis and they will proceed to Denver together.

Fairley is now in Indianapolis conferring with union labor leaders.

Davies declined to explain his absence of the past few days but denied that he had conferred with John D. Rockefeller, Jr., or any of his representatives.

"I figure that thirty senators will talk on tolls," said Kern, "at about an hour and a half each. On the trust program, surely not more than fifty senators will talk, allowing the same time to each on the average. There will remain about three weeks of clear time for the consideration of miscellaneous questions."

SPLENDID TALENT IN PHILHARMONIC

Array of Finished Artists in Organization to Give Its First Concert Tonight

ALL ARE FIRST CLASS PLAYERS

Many of Them Are Capable of Concert Work of the Highest Order, Says One of Members

The assertion has recently been frequently made that La Crosse probably has more first class musical talent than any city its size in the United States. Even if this is not true, the fact remains that there are few cities that have sufficient talent to organize a symphony orchestra and a choral society of probably a hundred voices. The choral society has not yet been organized, but is on the way.

Review of Leaders

One of the Philharmonic members gives the following short review of some of the members:

"First, comes the director, F. W. Rawstron, graduate of German and English conservatories and a trained musician. He comes most highly recommended and has clippings and press notices of a most complimentary nature, not to mention musical credentials from artists with whom he has associated. The society is fortunate in having a man who 'knows how.' Mr. Glen Halik will lead the first violin section, in other words, is our concertmaster. Glen is surely a coming violinist. He is one of our high school boys and a loyal supporter of the society. Miss Hope Weatherwax is an Oberlin girl who has had a splendid musical training. She has appeared here frequently in solo work and her playing has been enthusiastically spoken of by those who have heard her. Mrs. Homer Cotton needs no introduction to La Crosse audiences. Not only has she done much solo work for La Crosse society, but was the head of the Normal school music department for two years. Mrs. Poehling is a musician of ability and held first chair in the Memphis Symphony orchestra. Miss Fay Shuman has had much musical experience and has done fine work this year in the first violin section. John Andre needs no comment. He is one of the best violinists in the northwest and should be doing concert work today. Mr. Muetze, the viola player, has just returned from Berlin where he has been studying for several years. He is a most finished and artistic player and the Philharmonic is in great good luck to have him for a member. Mr. Dow, Mr. Thompson and Mr. Tollefson make a strong cello section, and I understand that in each case the cello is the 'second' instrument they play. We have all known the Kreutz brothers since musical instruments were invented. The name has been identified with everything musical here for twenty years or more. They do splendid work. Then there are excellent players such as Liska, Spieker, Riese, Blischofsky, Check, Muetze, Russell and Rick.

Have Union President

"Then there is Brigham of the normal, a man who can fill in almost any place and do it with real ability. There is Horn on the double bass, and by the way, the president of the Musicians' union. Also do not forget Myron Locke, the most enthusiastic drummer in the city. Also he looks after the stage, also the advertising, also many other things that hustlers do.

"Mrs. F. W. Rawstron will be at the piano and is librarian of the society. She is a most valued member. Ralph Toland needs no special comment as soloist, neither does Walter Goetzinger, who will accompany him. Many declare that Toland has the best baritone voice ever locally produced and sings better and with an intelligence and understanding that will land him well up on the ladder if he goes after it. As for our dear old 'Walter' there never was anyone just like him when it comes to getting music out of a piano, and there is many a man drawing big houses as a solo artist that has neither the ability as an executant nor the understanding possessed by Walter Goetzinger, pianist.

"Other players who deserve most favorable comment are Mrs. Benz, Sokolik, Miss Josten, Mr. Witko, Miss Rick, Mr. Becker, Miss Hodge, Mr. Russell and Mr. Deters, the secretary.

Good Trombonists

"The trombone players, Berg and Streck, are splendid players. The Paveks need no introduction. They are masters of their instruments. Among others who have done excellent work both musically and from the standpoint of constructive work are Coy, Dockendorff and Frisch.

"Rather surprised, are you not, at what we have right here at home? There are many here who could make a musical success and become artists beyond all shadow of a doubt. They are all going to play at the LaCrosse Theater, Wednesday evening, May 6th. This is the first concert. The program is good and as a representative orchestra of this city, I know it will make good."

MASONS BURY HARRIS

Borne by six fellow Masons, the body of Ira Harris was laid this afternoon in Oak Grove cemetery. A. F. Kniebusch, C. C. Looney, Seymour Meister, William T. Hoefner, Christian Gorder and Leonard J. Killian acted as pallbearers. Services were held at 2 o'clock at the Masonic temple, John Langdon conducting the ritual, assisted by Rev. Joseph E. Watson.

THE crack trapshooter has to be a man with steady nerves and muscles absolutely under control—always ready, at the sudden jerk of a string to swing his gun into place and bring down his clay pigeon. This means trained, not to the minute, but to the split-second. He takes no chances with his nerves.

We present the names of some of these crack shots who smoke Tuxedo. They like to smoke; but they take no chances on a tobacco that might "throw them off."

Wisconsin-Illinois League Opened Season Yesterday; Former La Crosse Man Manages Team

GREEN BAY, Wis., May 6.—On Tuesday the Wisconsin-Illinois league, an organization that furnished a large number of players to the major leagues, inaugurated its ninth season.

Games were scheduled in Oshkosh between the Racine and Oshkosh clubs, in Rockford between the Madison and Rockford teams, in Marinette-Menominee between the Green Bay and Twin city clubs and in Appleton between the Wausau and Appleton teams.

On Thursday the clubs will switch so as to give an opening game at the earliest opportunity in the other four cities—Racine, Madison, Green Bay and Wausau. A schedule of 126 games will be played.

The circuit is composed of the same cities as last year with one exception. In 1913 the league started the year with Milwaukee in the circuit and about the middle of the summer was operated in Fond du Lac. That franchise will be played in Marinette-Menominee this year. During the winter the Wausau franchise was put on the market and purchased by Freeport, Ill., fans only to revert back to the Wisconsin city.

Three old managers, Joe Killian of Oshkosh, Bobby Lynch of Green Bay and Harry Bay of Madison will lead teams again this year. The other managers are Frank Reynolds at Racine, George Bubser at Wausau, George Brautigam at Appleton, Orville Wolfe at Rockford and Red Wickenhofer at Twin cities.

CLOTHIERS OPEN SEASON AT BANGOR

The Nelson Clothing company base ball team will open the season Sunday when they journey to Bangor to clash with the baseball aggregation representing that town. Bangor has a good team and the Clothiers will travel at a faster clip than ever this season owing to the strengthening of the line up. Childers will do the backstop work for the LaCrosse team and Squires or Walters will be used on the slab.

The Clothiers will play their first home game of the season Sunday, May 17th, when they clash with the Winona Shellhas club, considered one of the fastest amateur teams in this part of the country.

Chifeds Drop Game in the Twelfth when "Ginger" Weakens; Browns' Eighteen Men Lose

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Johnson shut out New York Tuesday, allowing only four hits. Not a Yankee reached first base until the seventh inning. Fielding of the visitors was very ragged in the early stages of the game, but they executed a triple play in the third inning which cut off several runs.

With the bases full, Morgan hit to Malsel, who threw to Sweeney, forcing Grandil at the plate. Sweeney then threw to Williams, putting out Morgan. Williams hurled the ball to Malsel who tagged Ainsworth.

CLEVELAND, May 6.—The fielding of Turner and Cobb, the pitching of Hagerman and the hitting of Lajoie were the features of Tuesday's game, which Cleveland won from Detroit, 4 to 2. In the sixth inning Cobb ran in back of second base and made a wonderful diving catch of Graney's pop fly. In the ninth inning, with Detroit threatening a rally, Turner started a fast double play on Moriarty's hard grounder, and a moment later robbed Stanage of a hit by fast work. That venerable, but highly uncertain, dispenser of games—the weather—brought triplets to both the Federal and American parks, but only gloom and rain to the National league making it a holiday.

The Baltimore Terrapins raised their banner a few notches higher on the Federal goal post by taking the second straight game from St. Louis, 8 to 6. Baltimore swatted Willett fiercely in the eighth, getting five runs. Doolan emptied the bases with a double.

Evening up the four game series and cutting down Detroit's lead, the Naps took yesterday's fray, 4 to 2. Cleveland jumped on Covaleski in the opening session for three of the markers, and Hagerman for the Naps stopped Detroit's threatened batting rallies.

Walter Johnson was in fine trim in yesterday's pastime with the Yanks. He allowed but four hits, blanking his opponents, while the Senators chalked up six runs.

Chances men pulled off a beautiful triple play in the third after the Senators had driven in two tallies on five straight singles, still having the bases populated.

On a field so foggy lanterns had to be used the Chifeds labored for a dozen innings against Buffalo before sudden disintegration developed among Tinker's men and the S. O. S. was given.

Buffalo tied the score in the eighth again in the tenth, and when Watson blew in the last, made three, winning 5 to 2.

Nick Cullop, former Nap twirler, let the Pittsburgh team down with four hits giving the second game to the Kaweds, 3 to 2.

LOSS OF APPETITE IN THE SPRING

Loss of appetite is accompanied by loss of vitality, vigor or tone, which is a more serious loss. It is common in the spring because at this time the blood is impure and impoverished and fails to give the digestive organs what they need for the proper performance of their functions.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. It makes the rich red blood your whole system demands. It is not simply a spring medicine—but it is the best spring medicine.

Dressy Hat with Drooping Flange

IN the variety of hat styles for early summer, this model, larger than many, has an original feature in the drooping flange of ribbon. It is made of pink maline in several thicknesses, stretched over a wire frame, and faced with soft taffeta, matching the flange. The maline also stands out in the upper transparent flange. With a spray of flowers on the outside, this hat affords a decidedly new effect that is admired with summer dresses, particularly crêpes. The all black coquettish turban of Eastertide will give way to brighter headgear as summer advances.

FRENCH modistes have laid as much stress upon artistic and original designs for cotton materials this season as upon elaborate creations of silk and laces; for the manufacturers of "tub" fabrics, so called, have produced such novel and exquisite things that they tempt not only the couturiers but anyone who goes forth to buy her summer clothes. Could our grandmothers behold the beauty and strange weaves of to-day's cottons, they would think of them as something unrelated to the simple gingham, lawn, calico and dimities which they prized so highly.

The newest cotton crêpes, ratines, voiles, and canvases are as beautiful as woolsens and silks which they will supplant in the smart wardrobe. A hint at the variety afforded is shown in the models reproduced in this page. There is a stylish black and white ratine stripe (8211) set off with a shaped band of black taffeta, and a deep belt of green suede. Here is shown the inevitable frill of net, in neck and sleeves. Here it is bordered with a binding of taffeta, which not only serves to give the ripple, but it is also a suggestive device for keeping the frills from showing soil. The blouse is a surprise with drop shoulders; and the skirt is a plain one in three gores with a shaped tunic falling in two points at the back. The pattern is 15 cents.

Reminiscent of Dolly Varden frocks is the dainty flowered crepe shown in the lower right corner of this page. The skirt has a draped front which is easily fashioned with pattern No. 8323; and it shows off the softness of crepe fabrics in drapery. The fronts of the blouse are cut to form an odd girdle over a belt of rose silk. The collar is of ecru batiste. A dress of medium size can be made from 6 yards of 36-inch material.

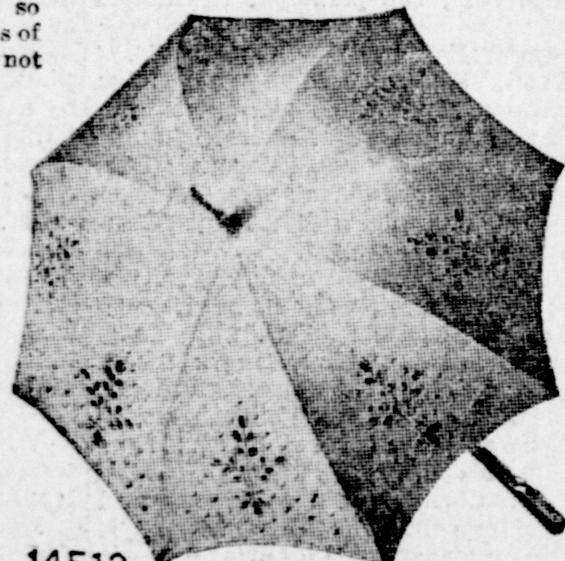

Women who look to the wearing quality of their gowns, and who want something smart which will not muss quickly, are trying fancy canvas weaves of white and colored linens. Such is the material most attractively made up in No. 8330. The skirt is draped slightly and has an inset of heavy lace at either side, and a box-plaited panel in the back. A striking note of individuality is given by the shaped girdle of printed red voile with a white design. Ruchings of ribbon or silk are one of the smartest trimmings seen on some Paris gowns, and they offer a suggestion for the home dressmaker, as used on the dainty dress in the upper left corner. This is made up from patterns 8088, blouse; and 8337, skirt. The material is old blue and white voile, with blue ruchings. The skirt model may be embellished with a callot apron drapery and bustle back, included in the pattern. The blouse is suitable for misses or ladies; and comes in 7 sizes. Each pattern number is 15 cents.

The soft character of wash materials for this season calls for trimmings and accessories somewhat different from the familiar kinds. All sorts of laces are used, especially the thread run varieties in deep cream and ecru shades. Organdie, seen so much for collars of the Medici style, has a tailored effect, yet must be immaculate and without a crease to look as fastidious dressers require. Colored embroidery in white chiffon edgings and on net is a very new trimming that introduces color in pleasing ways. It is so new and different from ruchings and frills of net and lace that it will be exclusive if not popular because of its cost. Cluny laces are suitable for trimming linen and ratine dresses and jackets; and, by way of novelty, embroidered crepe, matching the ground of a dress, will form a part of it, sometimes with an entredeux of lace instead of a seam.

Bag and Parasol

stamping. The finished bag will be 5½ by 6½ inches. 10 cents.

Eight transfers for the sprays (14512) may be applied to sections for a parasol covering, as illustrated, or may be used in various ways to decorate a linen dress. They are worked in a combination of solid and eyelet stitches. The pattern is 15 cents.

Natural linen crash stenciled with conventional flower motifs make very decorative and appropriate covers for sideboards, tables, centre-pieces, etc., for the country house, or summer use in the city home. The material itself is inexpensive, and can be bought in narrow widths from fifteen cents per yard and up. The colors are chosen frequently to carry out some color scheme of room decoration. Some clever craftswomen are adding bits of hand embroidery to the stenciled patterns, for instance, putting a few stitches on the high lights, or as leaf veillings. In the illustration, the candle shades are also stenciled. They may be made of silk, linen, or paper. Seven stencil motifs comprise pattern No. 14352. They may be used as all-over designs, or separately for borders to decorate pillows, runners, portieres, lampshades, curtains, waste-baskets, etc. The price is 15 cents.

Household Hints

HOUSEWIVES preparing the daily menu should remember that rhubarb at this season is an excellent blood purifier. They may include onions, because they contain sulphur and tend to counteract uric acid. Beans, spinach and raw cabbage in the bill of fare will provide iron, good for anemic tendencies. Tomatoes stimulate a sluggish liver; while carrots tend to clear and beautify the complexion. According to the condition of one's system, will be or she crave the foods which supply the need.

Graham Biscuits

To one and one-half cupfuls of graham flour and one of white flour, add one tablespoonful of brown sugar, one egg, and one teaspoonful each of salt and baking soda. Moisten with thin sour cream. Roll the batter one-half inch thick, and cut with biscuit molds. Bake slowly.

Coffee Cake

Mix one cupful of sugar with one-half cupful of butter; add two well-beaten eggs, one-half cupful of seeded raisins, chopped; the same quantity of molasses, a teaspoonful each of ground cloves, mace and cinnamon. Dissolve a quarter of a teaspoonful of baking soda in half a cup of strong cold coffee and add to the mixture. Finally add two cupfuls of finely sifted flour. This cake will keep a long time, and taste like fruit cake.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, May 6.—The market opened today steady to 1/4c higher on light receipts and a higher cable. Continued buying of May and July wheat by local commission houses had sent those futures up another 1/4c each by noon. May was 3/4c and July 1/2c higher than Tuesday's close.

The corn market had an easy opening, due to better weather in Argentina, but reports from the west that continuous rains were having an adverse effect on the crop and that shipments at Buenos Ayres were greatly delayed caused a bulge which sent May futures up 3/4c and July up 1/2c before noon.

Oats had a firm undertone, the effect of which was observed mostly in July futures. That month's crop opened at Tuesday's closing price but at noon had gained 1/4c. May remained unchanged.

Provisions recorded the smallest trade in months, despite a firmer undertone.

WOULD KEEP PRICE DOWN

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Secretary of the Interior Lane declared before the house public lands committee today that he was opposed to paying corporations unearned increment on their plants if the government takes over hydro-electric plants fifty years from now, as provided in the Ferris bill. If the government purchases those companies, he declared, then it should not pay more than the present value of the concern plus a reasonable profit for the investor.

PIRATES RAID AND LOOT CHINESE SHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 6.—Chinese pirates raided the steamer Shingtai, when it was three hours out of Hong Kong on March 31. Killed a soldier of the Chinese government, murdered the keeper of the ship's stores, wounded another guard and looted the vessel of $30,000, according to officers of the Nippon Maru, which docked here today.

The Shingtai was a Chinese owned vessel, but flew a British flag. Before sailing from Hong Kong it took aboard 17 passengers. These proved to be the pirates. At a signal, they leaped upon the crew and took possession of the ship.

MORE SHIPS TO VERA CRUZ

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 6.—Five war ships will leave the League Island yard tomorrow and Friday. Two, the gunboat Sacramento and the repair ship Anther, will join Admiral Badger's fleet at Vera Cruz. The other three are ordered to Annapolis.

Even an epicure would soon tire if his job were one continuous round of pudding and ice cream.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, May 6.—The market opened today steady to 1/4c higher on light receipts and a higher cable. Continued buying of May and July wheat by local commission houses had sent those futures up another 1/4c each by noon. May was 3/4c and July 1/2c higher than Tuesday's close.

The corn market had an easy opening, due to better weather in Argentina, but reports from the west that continuous rains were having an adverse effect on the crop and that shipments at Buenos Ayres were greatly delayed caused a bulge which sent May futures up 3/4c and July up 1/2c before noon.

Oats had a firm undertone, the effect of which was observed mostly in July futures. That month's crop opened at Tuesday's closing price but at noon had gained 1/4c. May remained unchanged.

Provisions recorded the smallest trade in months, despite a firmer undertone.

PREFERS LIONS TO LIFE ON FARM

Lady Lion Tamer Who Thrusts Head in Beast's Jaws Says It's Easy—if You Keep Head

"It is dangerous but I like the work and the excitement, and I love my lions, even though they are treacherous and have injured me," Mile. Marguerite, the lion tamer, in Gollmar Brothers' big circus, remarked recently while she put the finishing touches to her make up before going out to thrust her head into the mouth of one of the beasts, and otherwise entertain with her group of forest bred lions.

Mile. Marguerite started life on a farm near Leipzig, Germany, but at the age of 16, tiring of the down home ways, and a circus happening her way, she drifted into the animal training business. Her debut was made in Berlin when she worked with a troupe of bears. Life with the slow going bears proved too tame for her and she gathered together a number of lions.

Sometimes they furnish excitement as scars on her body testify. In Hamburg last year one of the beasts struck her and then walked away. "Guess it thought I had it coming," she smiled, as she rubbed the faint scars on her wrist.

"This is my fourth year as an animal trainer," she volunteered, "I got tired of the farm, so I got into this stunt." She snapped her whip and listened to her pets roar in their cages on the stage.

"That's Moxie, my favorite, and the one in whose mouth I put my head," she said. "That's an easy trick as all you have to do is to get a good grip on his jaws and not lose your head."

Mile. Marguerite is one of the features of the season with Gollmar Brothers' big circus, which will be in La Crosse, May 19.

WATERY BLISTERS ON CHILD'S FACE

Kept Scratching Until Cheeks Fiery Red, Skin Cracked and Scaly, Itched and Burned. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. No Return of Trouble.

Smithville, Ind.—"Six months ago our baby girl, one year old, had a few red pimples come on her face which gradually spread causing her face to become very irritated and a fiery red color. The pimples on the child's face were at first small watery blisters just a small blotch on the skin. She kept scratching at this until in a few days her whole cheeks were fiery red color and instead of the little blisters the skin was cracked and scaly looking and seemed to itch and burn very much."

"We used a number of remedies which seemed to give relief for a short time then leave her face worse than ever. Finally we got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I washed the child's face with very warm water and Cuticura Soap, then applied the Cuticura Ointment very lightly. After doing this about three times a day the itching and burning seemed entirely gone in two days' time. Inside of two weeks' time her face seemed well. That was eight months ago and there has been no return of the trouble." (Signed) Mrs. A. K. Woodard, Nov. 4, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexion, red, rough hands and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little, that it is almost criminal not to use them. Sold by dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-page book on the skin and scalp. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

PINE CREEK VALLEY

A very pretty wedding occurred at the Catholic church in La Crosse Tuesday, April 21st, when Kathryn Burns was united in marriage to Leo Bonman. They will make their home in Pine Creek.

Miss Olive Webster spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks. She was accompanied by her friend, Miss Mary Hafner.

Miss Minnie Welsh spent the latter part of last week with friends at La Crosse.

Jim Farrell, Jr., and sisters visited at Joe Willett's one evening last week.

Miss Irene Buck closed a very successful term of school here last Friday.

Miss Mary Graf visited her sister, Miss Ellen, last week.

Miss Ellen Graf closed a term of school in District No. 2 with a picnic. The most exciting feature of the day was a very interesting ball game between the pupils of District No. 2 and the Mill school pupils which resulted in a victory for the Mill school team by a score of 11 to 2.

Great credit must be given to the Mill school pupils for their very fair and excellent playing. The game was very well umpired and justice was given both sides. The batteries for No. 2 were James Gillespie and George Farrell, and for the other side, Walter Willette and Elmer Kerrigan.

Managers Bennie Webster of the Mill school and Margaret Farrell of District No. 2 have made arrangements for a return game May 12th.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR BACK HURTS, FLUSH YOUR KIDNEYS WITH SALTS

Meat forms uric acid, which clogs Kidneys, irritates Bladder or causes Rheumatism

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and sluggish. When your kidneys get them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Agent, Chas. A. Bayschlag, Druggist, 508 Main St.

"SEPTEMBER MORN"

"September Morn" has been dramatized, funnified and musicalized by Arthur Gillespie and Aubrey Stauffer. Two clever chaps who can blend pleasing lyrics and compose catchy music in this new fun show. They have succeeded beyond all anticipation and the producers, Rowland & Clifford, have selected a great company to enact the various roles and sing the jingle tunes. Dave Law is the well known comedian, has the big fun part and Minerva Coverdale, called "the American Gaby Deslys," has a dashing role with unique dances. Frances Kennedy is also seen in a part that was written for her. The chorus is large and pretty. Among the song hits are: "When a Little Boy Loves a Little Girl," "In Berlin," "Oh, You September Morn," "Everybody's Tango Crazy," "A Spare-Rib from the Butcher Shop of Life," "Where is the Pleasure in Wine and Song if the Woman is Not There," "Cornfield Queen," "I've a Girl in Every Town," "Beautiful Dreams I'm Dreaming," "The Sun Shade Girl," etc.

"September Morn" comes to the La Crosse theater Friday, May 8, following a big hit run at the La Salle Opera house, Chicago.

"MUTT AND JEFF"

Little did Bud Fisher think, when he conceived the idea of the "Mutt and Jeff" cartoon series that it would prove to be the most remarkable success a newspaper artist ever achieved nor that his effort would be the nucleus of a play that will live forever as one of the greatest laugh producers for young and old the stage has ever known.

"In Panama," the vehicle used for laughing purposes this season, is an innovation in play writing, far in advance of anything ever been offered at any price of admission, which fact can be proven by a visit to the La Crosse theater Sunday, May 10, matinee and night, when the big "Mutt and Jeff in Panama" production, requiring a full sixty foot car load of scenery and properties, with fifty star performers, will appear.
